"We want to empower THIS community to get the most from their Medicare benefits," said ETCOG's Area Agency on Aging Director, Bettye Mitchell. "If you or a loved one receive Medicare, we encourage you to attend the conference and connect with experts in the field. We find so often that many do not understand their benefits, or may not be utilizing all that they can. We can also connect beneficiaries with extra help to pay for Medicare costs, which can mean so much to individuals on a fixed income. Please, save the date and plan to join us for Power in Community."
